PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

- Introductory Mobile App Mini-Project: Created a small-scale mobile application as part of a coursework project to learn the basics of Flutter. To make the application functional, I took the initiative to study and experiment with basic Firebase integration for simple data storage. This project helped me grasp the fundamental concepts of how mobile applications operate.
- Basic Web Development Class Project: Worked with classmates on a simple React web application. We used GitHub to share code and divide tasks. Since my coding skills are still at a beginner level, I actively utilized AI tools to help guide me, understand the code structure, and solve basic errors along the way.
- IT Career Camp (Workshop Participant): Attended a beginner-friendly workshop hosted by Tokio Marine to explore real-world IT practices. Gained introductory, guided experience in calling APIs and using Visual Studio, which further sparked my interest in learning more about software development.
- Foundational Programming Knowledge: Possess a basic understanding of coding structures and syntax in Python, JavaScript, PHP, C, and CSS. While I am still in the early stages of learning and actively rely on continuous research, I am highly motivated to practice, be trained, and improve my coding skills during this internship.
